A BILL

To prohibit forced arbitration in work disputes, and for other purposes.

1       Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2       tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3       SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4       This Act may be cited as the “Restoring Justice for 5       Workers Act”.

1 SEC. 2. PURPOSES.

2 The purposes of this Act are to—

3 (1) prohibit predispute arbitration agreements

4 that require arbitration of work disputes;

5 (2) prohibit retaliation against workers for re-

6 fusing to arbitrate work disputes;

7 (3) provide protections to ensure that postdis-

8 pute arbitration agreements are truly voluntary and 9 with the informed consent of workers; and

10 (4) amend the National Labor Relations Act to 11 prohibit agreements and practices that interfere with 12 employees' right to engage in concerted activity re-

13 garding work disputes.

14 SEC. 3. ARBITRATION OF WORK DISPUTES.

15 (a) IN GENERAL.—Title 9 of the United States Code

16 is amended by adding at the end the following:

17 “CHAPTER 4—ARBITRATION OF WORK*18 DISPUTES

“Sec.

“401. Definitions.

“402. Validity and enforceability.

19 “§ 401. Definitions

20 “In this chapter—

21 “(1) the terms ‘commerce’, ‘employee’, and ‘em-

22 ployer’ have the meanings given the terms in section

23 3 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29

24 U.S.C. 203);

1           “(2) the term ‘covered entity’ means—

2               “(A) an employer; or

3               “(B) an individual or entity that is not 4               acting as an employer and engages the services
5               of a worker;

6           “(3) the term ‘predispute arbitration agree-
7               ment’ means any agreement to arbitrate a dispute
8               that had not yet arisen at the time of the making 9               of the agreement;

10          “(4) the term ‘postdispute arbitration agree-
11               ment’ means any agreement to arbitrate a dispute 12               that arose before the time of the making of the 13               agreement;

14          “(5) the term ‘worker’ means—

15               “(A) an employee; or 16               “(B) an individual who is engaged by a 17               covered entity to perform services or work as an 18               independent contractor (regardless of the label 19               or classification assigned or used by the covered 20               entity); and 21          “(6) the term ‘work dispute’—

22               “(A) means a dispute between one or more 23               workers (or their authorized representatives) 24               and a covered entity arising out of or related to 25               the work relationship or prospective work rela-

1 tionship between the workers and the covered
2 entity; and

3 “(B) includes, but is not limited to—

4 “(i) a dispute regarding the terms of,
5 payment for, advertising of, recruitment of,
6 referring of, arranging for, or discipline or 7 discharge in connection with such work;

8 “(ii) a dispute arising under any law 9 referred to or described in section 62(e) of 10 the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, includ-
11 ing any part of such a law not explicitly 12 referenced in such section that relates to 13 protecting individuals on a basis that is 14 protected under a law referred to or de-15 scribed in such section; and 16 “(iii) a dispute in which an individual 17 or individuals seek certification—

18 “(I) as a class under rule 23 of 19 the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure;

20 “(II) as a collective action under 21 section 16(b) of the Fair Labor
22 Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C.
23 216(b)); or

24 “(III) under a comparable rule or 25 provision of State law.

1     “§ 402. Validity and enforceability”

2         “(a) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other chapter of this title—4             “(1) no predispute arbitration agreement shall 5             be valid or enforceable if it requires arbitration of a

6             work dispute;

7             “(2) no postdispute arbitration agreement that 8             requires arbitration of a work dispute shall be valid 9             or enforceable unless—

10                 “(A) the agreement was not required by 11             the covered entity, obtained by coercion or 12             threat of adverse action, or made a condition of 13             employment, work, or any employment-related 14             or work-related privilege or benefit;

15                 “(B) each worker entering into the agreement was informed in writing using sufficiently plain language likely to be understood by the average worker of—

19                     “(i) the right of the worker under paragraph (3) to refuse to enter the agreement without retaliation; and 22                     “(ii) the protections under section 8(a)(6) of the National Labor Relations Act (29 U.S.C. 158(a)(6)); 25                 “(C) each worker entering into the agreement entered the agreement after a waiting pe-

1           riod of not fewer than 45 days, beginning on 2           the date on which the worker was provided both 3           the final text of the agreement and the disclo-4           sures required under subparagraph (B); and 5                 “(D) each worker entering into the agree-6                 ment affirmatively consented to the agreement 7                 in writing;

8                 “(3) no agreement shall be valid or enforceable,
9                 whereby prior to a work dispute to which the agree-10                 ment applies, a worker undertakes or promises not 11                 to pursue, bring, join, litigate, or support any kind 12                 of joint, class, or collective claim arising from or re-13                 lating to a work dispute in any forum that, but for 14                 such agreement, is of competent jurisdiction;

15                 “(4) no agreement shall be valid or enforceable,
16                 whereby after a work dispute to which the agree-17                 ment applies arises, a worker undertakes or prom-18                 ises not to pursue, bring, join, litigate, or support 19                 any kind of joint, class, or collective claim arising 20                 from or relating to a work dispute in any forum 21                 that, but for such agreement, is of competent juris-22                 diction, unless the agreement meets the require-23                 ments of paragraph (2) of this subsection; and 24                 “(5) no covered entity may retaliate or threaten 25                 to retaliate against a worker for refusing to enter

1       into an agreement that provides for arbitration of a
2       work dispute.

3       “(b) STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS.—During the waiting 4       period described in subsection (a)(2)(C), the statute of 5       limitations for any claims that arise from or form the basis 6       for the applicable work dispute shall be tolled.

7       “(c) CIVIL ACTION.—Any person who is injured by 8       reason of a violation of subsection (a)(5) may bring a civil 9       action in the appropriate district court of the United 10      States against the covered entity within 2 years of the vio-
11      lation, or within 3 years if such violation is willful. Relief 12      granted in such an action shall include a reasonable attor-13      ney’s fee, other reasonable costs associated with maintain-14      ing the action, and any appropriate relief authorized by 15      section 706(g) of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C.
16      2000e–5(g)) or by section 1977A(b) of the Revised Stat-17      utes (42 U.S.C. 1981a(b)).

18       “(d) APPLICABILITY.—

19       “(1) IN GENERAL.—This chapter applies to cov-20      ered entities and workers engaged in activity affect-21      ing commerce to the fullest extent permitted by the 22      Constitution of the United States, including the 23      work of persons engaged in domestic service in 24      households, as described in section 2(a) of the Fair 25      Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C. 202(a)).

1       An issue as to whether this chapter applies to an ar-
2       bitration agreement shall be determined under Fed-3       eral law. The applicability of this chapter to an 4       agreement to arbitrate and the validity and enforce-5       ability of an agreement to which this chapter applies 6       shall be determined by a court, rather than an arbi-
7       trator, regardless of whether any contractual provi-8       sion purports to delegate such determinations to the 9       arbitrator and irrespective of whether the party re-
10      sisting arbitration challenges the arbitration agree-
11      ment specifically or in conjunction with other terms 12      of the contract containing such agreement.

13           “(2) COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENTS.—
14      Nothing in this chapter shall apply to any arbitra-
15      tion provision in a contract between a covered entity
16      and a labor organization, except that no such arbi-17      tration provision shall have the effect of waiving the 18      right of a worker to seek judicial enforcement of a 19      right arising under a provision of the Constitution of 20      the United States, the constitution of a State, or a 21      Federal or State statute, or public policy arising 22      therefrom.”.

23           (b) TECHNICAL AND CONFORMING AMENDMENTS.—
24           (1) IN GENERAL.—Title 9 of the United States
25      Code is amended—

1                             (A) in section 1, by striking “of seamen,” 2                             and all that follows through “interstate com-3                             merce”;

4                             (B) in section 2, by inserting “or as other-5                             wise provided in chapter 4” before the period at 6                             the end;

7                             (C) in section 208—

8                                 (i) in the section heading, by striking
9                             “Chapter 1; residual application”
10                             and inserting “Application”; and

11                                 (ii) by adding at the end the fol-
12                             lowing: “This chapter applies to the extent 13                             that this chapter is not in conflict with 14                             chapter 4.”; and

15                             (D) in section 307—

16                                 (i) in the section heading, by striking
17                             “Chapter 1; residual application”
18                             and inserting “Application”; and

19                                 (ii) by adding at the end the fol-
20                             lowing: “This chapter applies to the extent 21                             that this chapter is not in conflict with 22                             chapter 4.”.

23                             (2) TABLE OF SECTIONS.—

24                             (A) CHAPTER 2.—The table of sections for 25                             chapter 2 of title 9, United States Code, is

1               amended by striking the item relating to section
2               208 and inserting the following:

“208. Application.”.

3               (B) CHAPTER 3.—The table of sections for 4               chapter 3 of title 9, United States Code, is
5               amended by striking the item relating to section
6               307 and inserting the following:

“307. Application.”.

7               (3) TABLE OF CHAPTERS.—The table of chap-8               ters for title 9, United States Code, is amended by 9               adding at the end the following:

“4. Arbitration of work disputes ..... 401.”.

10 SEC. 4. PROTECTION OF CONCERTED ACTIVITY.

11               (a) AGREEMENTS.—Section 8(a) of the National 12 Labor Relations Act (29 U.S.C. 158(a)) is amended—

13               (1) in paragraph (5), by striking the period at 14               the end and inserting “; and”; and 15               (2) by adding at the end the following:

16               “(6)(A) to enter into or attempt to enforce any 17               agreement, express or implied, whereby prior to a 18               dispute to which the agreement applies, an employee 19               undertakes or promises not to pursue, bring, join, 20               litigate, or support any kind of joint, class, or collec-21               tive claim arising from or relating to the employ-22               ment of such employee in any forum that, but for 23               such agreement, is of competent jurisdiction;

1           “(B) to coerce such an employee into under-2       taking or promising not to pursue, bring, join, litig-3       ate, or support any kind of joint, class, or collective 4       claim arising from or relating to the employment of 5       such employee; or

6           “(C) to retaliate or threaten to retaliate against 7       an employee for refusing to undertake or promise 8       not to pursue, bring, join, litigate, or support any 9       kind of joint, class, or collective claim arising from 10      or relating to the employment of such employee:

11       Provided, That any agreement that violates this 12      paragraph or results from a violation of this para-13      graph shall be to such extent unenforceable and 14      void: Provided further, That this paragraph shall not 15      apply to any agreement embodied in or expressly 16      permitted by a contract between an employer and a 17      labor organization.”.

18       (b) CONFORMING AMENDMENT.—Section 10(b) of 19      the National Labor Relations Act (29 U.S.C. 160(b)) is 20      amended by striking “discharge” and inserting “dis-
21      charge, or unless the person aggrieved thereby is an em-
22      ployee alleging a violation of section 8(a)(6) whose charge 23      involves a postdispute arbitration agreement that meets 24      the requirements under section 402(a)(2) of title 9, United 25      States Code, or an agreement described in section

1 402(a)(4) of such title that meets the requirements under 2 subparagraphs (A) through (D) of section 402(a)(2) of 3 such title, in which event the six-month period shall be 4 computed from the day the waiting period described in 5 subparagraph (C) of such section ends".

6 SEC. 5. EFFECTIVE DATE.

7 This Act, and the amendments made by this Act, 8 shall take effect on the date of enactment of this Act and 9 shall apply with respect to any dispute or claim that arises
10 or accrues on or after such date, including any dispute 11 or claim to which an agreement predating such date ap-12 plies.
